The Village Autocrat.

Recently, in looking over an old volume of Parliamentary reports, I came across a speech made by a member from Liverpool named Wallace. With a degree of self-complacency that was truly refreshing he propounded the following bit of logic by way of proving the general superiority of England:—

"It has been truly said that he who commands the sea commands the commerce of the world; that he who commands the commerce of the world commands the wealth of the world; and, surely, he who can command the wealth of the world must command the world itself. I venture to say no man will dispute that England commands the sea."

I smiled as I read, not so much at the bold logic of Mr. Wallace, as at the memory of an incident which his argument recalled to my mind.

Years ago, an old pedagogue named Kelly, kept the village school at Yagger, a thriving manufacturing settlement on a tributary of the Androscoggin river, in Maine. In the village was a large new hall, of which the citizens were very proud, and which they were determined to preserve from rough and wearing uses. The time came when a Thespian club wished very much to use the hall for a series of dramatic entertainments—to erect a stage and put up scenery, etc; but their proposition to the trustees met with a stern and uncompromising refusal. Said old Kelly, when he heard of it:—

"I think I could get the hall for you, that is if you will promise not to drive nails into the wall or to otherwise mar or disfigure the property." This the committee of the club promised most solemnly.

But they had little faith in the ability of the simple minded pedagogue to accomplish the end he had undertaken.—What influence could he have with the stiff-necked trustees?

Attending the village school was a certain little "Bobby" Shaftwell, so called, a bright-faced, forward, precocious hero of six years, whose mother literally worshiped him, and this boy regarded his teacher as a very monarch. By one of those peculiar psychological affinities for which there is no accounting, little Bobby had come to worship his kind old teacher, almost as ardently as his mamma worshiped him.

To little Bobby the pedagogue appealed. "Really, my dear boy," he said, "I should like to have you see the club perform the drama of 'William Tell.'—I know it would please you to witness the performance, and I believe your good mother would enjoy not only pleasing you but also the play itself."

He ventured no further, and there was no need. Two days later the chairman of the Thespian Club Committee was informed that he could have the use of the hall; and two weeks later still, the club performed "William Tell, Hero of Switzerland," upon a spacious stage in the grand village hall.

"Goodness, mercy, Mr Kelly, how did you do it?" asked one of the Thespians.

Upon the promise of strict secrecy the pedagogue elucidated as follows:—

My dear young friend, the whole thing is very simple. I govern the village school, and in doing that I govern an only son who completely governs his mother. The mother, in turn, as with a rod of iron, governs her husband: and this husband, being the wealthiest man in the place—the leading spirit in fact—regulates and controls the affairs of the town and of the parish. Ergo—I am Autocrat of the Village! Don't you see?"

The Thespian saw and was thankful it was so.—Reading Eagle.

HONORS TO A WAR HORSE.—General S D. Sturgis, of the Seventh Cavalry has issued an unusually interesting and touching order to his immediate command. It reads as follows: "The war horse known as Comanche being the only living representative of the bloody tradgedy of the Little Big Horn, June 25, 1876, his kind treatment and comfort should be a matter of pride and solicitude on the part of every member of the Seventh Cavalry, to the end that his life may be prolonged to the utmost limit: wounded and scarred as he is, his very existence speaks in terms more eloquent than words, of the desperate struggle against over whelming numbers, of the hopeless conflict, and of the heroic manner in which all went down on that fatal day. The commanding officer of Company I will see that a special and comfortable stall is fixed up for him, and he will not be ridden by any person whatsoever under any circumstances, nor will he be put to any kind of work. Hereafter upon all occasions of ceremony (of mounted regimental formation) Comanche, saddled, bridled, draped in mourning, and led by a mounted trooper of Company I, will be paraded with the regiment." Comanche was the war horse of Captain Keogh. Fort Keogh was named after the brave soldier.

The Career of Cleopatra.

Cleopatra, queen of Egypt, was the daughter of Ptolemy Auletes and lived on the banks of the Nile. We may here remark that her income was more secure living on the banks of the Nile than it would have been had she attempted to live on the banks of Chicago. They were not so apt to collapse. She was a brunette of exceeding beauty, and all the newspaper correspondents who visited her capital during the sittings of congress vied with each other in trumpeting her praises. They wrote up the parties she had (especially the old party named Pompey,) and described her costumes in the most elaborate manner.

Previous Egyptian sovereigns were obliged to organize armies and gather fleets in order to achieve conquests, but she didn't. She only had to send for a neighboring prince or potentate whom she wished to overcome, and as soon as he set eyes on her he was dead gone. He surrendered at indiscretion, and she immediately gave him an appointment under her administration—as a slave. Great Cæsar himself once wore her livery, and Great Cæsar! how she made him step around. But Julius got away one day. He pretended that he belonged to an amateur dramatic club and was cast for a leading part, so she let him off on a promise that he would soon return. It is needless to say he never went back. Mrs. Cæsar heard of his disgraceful goings on with that "Egyptian mummy," as she called Cleopatra (when would a woman keep mum, eh?) and she would not let him go outside the yard alone for weeks. Cæsar, it will be remembered, was subsequently assassinated by the Molly Maguires, and Antony delivered a very effective funeral sermon over his remains, in which he took occasion to agree with Beecher and Bob Ingersoll in the doctrine that there is no hell. But it must be recollected that up to that time Antony had not met Cleopatra.

After the death of Julius Cæsar, at Rome, his son Octavius came into power. Then Antony made a trip to Egypt, ostensibly to inspect the Suez canal, but really to see Cleopatra, whom his late friend, the immortal Cæsar, was never weary of talking about. Antony reconciled his wife, Fulva, to his departure by promising to bring her a nice obelisk on his return. Once in Alexandria and introduced to Cleopatra, Antony succumbed like the rest. He neglected all business and surrendered himself to pleasure continually. He escorted her to theaters and balls and treated her to more champagne suppers than you can count.

In the meantime among the Romans trouble was brewin'. News came to Antony that a pompous gentleman named Pompey, having taken up arms, was picking up his feet very lively in a march against Rome. Besides being fleet of foot he had a fleet on the water with which, to use Antony's own words, "he hath given the dare to Cæsar, and commands the empire of the sea."—Following this came intelligence of the death of his wife, Fulva. Remorse seized Antony and then he determined to break "these strong Egyptian fetters and go where duty called, duty having a good hand to "call" him on. He went to Rome and had an interview with Cæsar, who wasn't very much pleased with his long tarrying at the Egyptian capital, nor did Antony's statement that he had been negotiating for Cleopatra's Needle with a view to bringing it to Rome mollify him much. 'It seems" said Octavius, venturing on a mild pun, "this Cleopatra's need all my generals," which wasn't so far from the truth. They made it up, however, and Cæsar, sympathizing deeply with Antony on account of the death of his wife, gave him his sister Octavia, to wed as a partial consolation. Then they put down Pompey; but did Antony, on his return from the war, hang up his sword and settle down to a quiet, domestic life with Octavia? Not much, he didn't. He knew of several octaves above Octavia. He sneaked off to Egypt again and renewed his questionable relations with Cleopatra. Cæsar, enraged by such treatment of his sister, declared war upon Antony. Their fleets met, Antony being reinforced by Cleopatra in her steam yacht. At the very moment when victory was about to perch upon the banner of Antony, climb the mast and stand on its head. Cleopatra took a sudden fright and put back to Alexandria, followed by Antony's fleet, and the day was lost. Their tragic deaths are well known. Antony, running over with shame and rage because he had followed off a woman instead of following up his advantage, fell upon his sword. He was conveyed to Cleopatra and died in her arms, his last words, as his eyes fell upon an empty hair-dye bottle on the mantle-piece, being, "I'm dying, Egypt, dying," although the days for coloring his hair were past and gone. Then Cleopatra took a deadly asp (sent to her by a friend in Aspin wall) and fastened it upon her bosom, and its poison speedily killed her. Thus perished the last queen of Egypt, a woman to whom Shakespere was indebted for a most fascinating character, and the stage of to-day for displaying one of its chief femenine ornaments to the greatest possible advantage.

"Here's my wife and I," said a husband with much complacency to his silver wedding guests, "who have been married five and twenty years, and in all that time haven't had a single unkind word with each other." "By Jove!" exclaimed one of the guests, "what a stupid time you must have had of it."

Those who want everything to be in apple pie order are usually as short as pie crust.

Courting under Difficulties.

It was in a room through which the members of the family were continually passing to and fro.

"Dear Alice," he said, "I cannot longer labor under the ans—"

The old folks conclude that Alice is safe enough in the company of a young man who can talk nothing but finance and theology and so relax their vigilance

VENTILATION.—Many persons complain of always getting up tired in the morning. This is often due to defective ventilation or from using an undue amount of bed clothes and bedding.—Feather beds are too soft and yielding, and partially envelop the sleeper, thus producing profuse perspiration. The habit of lying too much under blankets is also very pernicious, by reason of the carbonic acid exhaled by the sleeper being respired. Again it is a common error to suppose that by simply opening a window a little at the top a room can be ventilated. People forget that for proper ventilation there must be an inlet and outlet for the air. In bedrooms there is often neither, and if there is a fire place it is generally closed up.—Again, it is a mistake to suppose that foul air goes to the top of a room. Certainly the heated air goes to the top, but the chief impurity, the carbonic acid, falls to the bottom. There is nothing so efficacious in removing the lower stratum of air as the ordinary open fire place, especially if there is a fire burning.—Sanitary Record.

The first paper mill in England was built in 1586 by a german at Dartford, in Kent. Nevertheless, it was nearly a century and a half, namely, in 1713, before Thomas Watkins, a stationer, brought paper making to anything like perfection. The first approach to a pen was the stylus, a kind of iron bodkin; but the Romans forbade its use on account of its frequent and even fatal use in quarrels, and then it was made of bone. Subsequently, reeds pointed and split, like pens of the present day, were used.

A man who had announced his first attack of rheumatism learned in one-half hour that the following would cure it: Iodide of potassium, quinine, glauber salts, onions, raw lemons, raw silk, oil silk, gin and tansey, rock candy and whiskey, Turkish baths, a potato carried in his pocket, a horse chestnut carried in his pocket, an eel skin around his leg a suit of red flannel, chloroform liniment, hot lemonade, a trip South, a dry atmosphere, equable temperature, sulpher baths, mustard and hot water, camphor liniment and electricity.

When we see a poor woman trying to get a living by making shirts at ten cents apiece, or teaching in a public school at half the salary which the masculine gender demands for the same work, we feel that the little girl was right who said, "I wish God would smash me all to pieces and make me into a boy."

How are you getting on at your new place?" asked a lady of a girl whom she had recomended for a situation. "Very well, thank you," answered the girl. "I'm glad to hear it," said the lady. "Your employer is a very nice lady and you cannot do too much for her." "I don't mean to ma'am," was the innocent reply.

"Charles," said she to her Sunday school class, "mention some act of violence that was inflicted near the sea about this time." "Don't remember any; 'cept Jonah was whale-laid on the shore."—Graphic.

NEW PATENTS.—Through Dewey & Co. Patent Agents, San Francisco, we receive the following list of U. S. patents granted to Pacific coast inventors:

James W. Dillon, Virginia City, Nev., machine for drying slimes; Enoch J. Marsters, Stockton, and Robert A. Fisher, Sacramento, Cal., car trucks; Designs—William A. L. Miller, San Francisco, Cal., cabinet jewelry; Trademarks: Rhodes & Lewis, San Jose, Cal., cough mixture; Rodgers, Allekton & Co., San Francisco, Cal., chemical solution for preserving dead bodies; Labels—Painter & Calvert, San Francisco., "the stock ointment."

THE FENIANS.—Now that a war between Russia and England is imminent the Irish may be inclined to strike at Old England. Rumors are afloat, that the Irish contemplate a raid on Canada in case said war is inaugurated. It is said that three companies of Irish patriots are armed and equipped in Buffalo, N. Y., ready for service, and a thousand Western Irishman have been notified so that they can repair to Buffalo within twenty-four hours A war between England and Russia would give the Irish an opportunity to give England some more work.

Miller & Lux are buying all the cattle they can to eat the feed on their San Joaquin Ranch. They pay from $24 to $32 per head. They are said to have 700,000 acres in all in California, an area nearly as great as Rhode Island. There must be at least 400,000 acres in one body, running in strips ten or twelve miles wide and sixty miles long from Hill's Ferry southward. They own about 80,000 head of cattle, and last year their new born calves numbered 25,000 head.—Kern County Courier.

The House Committee on Education and Labor, have agreed to recommend the passage of the bill, making it a misdemeanor for the master of any vessel to bring more than 15 Chinese to any port in the United States at any one time, under a penalty of $100 for every passenger exceeding that number, and six months imprisonment.

DEPOSED.—Kearny has been removed from the Presidency of the State Central Committee of the Workingmen's party, and given a back seat. He has been denounced in strong terms by the Committee, but dies hard. It would have been a master stroke for that Party, if it had squelched him at the outset of his career.

The Sacramento Record says it is rather astonishing to hear a Chinaman whistling as he walks along the street, but a Celestial who walked down J street last evening trying to sing "The Sweet By and By" was for a while "the observed of all observers."

Thirteen car loads of excursionists went from Nevada and Grass Valley on Friday of last week, to see the circus at Colfax. Why didn't the circus go to those places?

An expert has discovered that Rufus C. Lovell, late Auditor and Recorder of Sacramento county, is short in his accounts some $1512.25.

At the elections held at Haywards and San Leandro, on Monday last, the Workingmen were successful, but that party was defeated at Hollister.

Peralta failed in his attempt to ride 305 miles in 15 hours, at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, succeeding only in riding 301¼.

Dr. Dio Lewis is sick with congestion of the brain and partial paralysis of the left side, so his camping party will have to choose a new leader.

The citizens of Ione City, Amador county, have held a public meeting and taken action to protect themselves against the outrages of desperadoes.

On Tuesday the Workingmen elected their entire ticket by a handsome majority at Nevada City.

The telegraph line is completed to Bodie, and will be in Aurora in two weeks.

It is estimated that the population of Kansas will be increased by two hundred thousand this year.

A New York dispatch says that Jim Keene is entirely out of stocks, having sold out during the last rise.

The funeral of John Morissey took place at Troy, New York, Saturday, and was attended by an immense concourse.

The British Government has ordered a million pounds weight of lint and other appliances for the wounded.

The observations of the transit of Mercury on Monday, were very successful throughout the country.

Ex-Governor Packard has been appointed U S. Consul at Liverpool.

Professor Felix Adler, is coming to California to lecture.

Constitutional Convention.

The nominations of delegates to the Constitutional Convention are being made daily, and thus far they are mostly non-partisan. To-day the people of El Dorado, irrespective of party proclivities, convene to nominate delegates to represent Alpine and El Dorado. The joint call of the Committee provides for the selection of three. In view of the fact, however, the Democratic and Republican Central Committees of Alpine having so ordered, that the Committee has been notified that the people of Alpine intend to nominate a delegate it is presumed that only two will be nominated to-day.

The importance of placing good men before the people as delegates cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the voters. Sweeping reforms are necessary, and the rights of the people should be well-guarded. Among the many reforms demanded are the following:

Revenue laws to make taxation as exacting on the rich as it is now on the poor. Liberal homestead. Liberal exemption from execution. Less intricate judiciary system. Pardons to be vested in a Board under stringent laws. A larger number of Legislators, with a per diem of $6 and actual traveling expenses. Legislative sessions limited to ninety days. Restrictions upon legislation so as to prevent the wholesale passage of bills upon the heels of the session. Protection of interior counties from the overshadowing and steadily increasing legislative representation from San Francisco; and for that purpose each county should be apportioned one member of the Assembly. Non-Sectarian school system. Liberal donations to deserving charitable institutions. Less electious. Legislature to meet in January.

The above is a good platform to place delegates on.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.—At 7 o'clock on the evening of May 2d, the city of Minneapolis, Minn., was shaken to its center by a terrible explosion, which occurred at the Washburn flouring mill, situated just above St. Anthony's Falls in what is known as the Platform, where all the flouring mills of the city are located.—The explosion caused a column of steam to shoot up several hundred feet, and the mill was crushed like an egg shell. Secondary explosions instantly occurred destroying five adjoining mills, and causing a great loss of life. Much damage was done throughout the city by the force of the explosion breaking glass etc., buildings for squares around being shaken to their foundation. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by the gas generated in a patent middlings purifier. The Washburn was the largest flouring mill in this country, and next to the largest in the world, and was worth $200,000. The total loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.—The Republican Central Committee of the Second Congressional District met at Sacramento on Monday last and ordered a District Convention to be held at Sacramento on May 20th to nominate eight delegates at large for the Constitutional Convention. County Committees are to see to the selection of delegates to this Convention. The Committee want men to be voted for at the election on June 19th without regard to party. They invite the Democratic organizations in the eleven counties composing this District to send an equal number of delegates to the Convention. The apportionment gives Alpine one delegate. The Convention will consist of 116 Republicans, and 116 Democrats, if the latter accept the invitation to fuse. This fusion would give Alpine 2 delegates.

In view of the rumors that Russia is preparing a fleet on the Pacific coast to be ready in the event of a war with England, the following dispatch from Yokohama, Japan, may have significance. It was received by a New York ship owner from the master of his bark: "Things look warlike here. Can sell the vessel to good advantage. Answer what you will take."

The Yosemite Park Commissioners are to expend the $10,000 appropriated by the State for the improvement of that great place of resort by the building of new bridges and fencing in a portion of the valley for the benefit of camping parties. All the old fences will be torn down and new ones erected when necessary.

Register Kaplin, of San Francisco, is bringing to light glaring frauds perpetrated at the last election in that city. Hundreds of votes were polled on certificates by parties who gave the names of persons who have been dead or out of the State for years.

Is Samuel J. Tilden crazy, or in his second childhood? It is said he has written a letter to a party in Washington saying that Congress will be guilty of a neglect of duty, if it does not investigate the Florida case.

The N. Y. Herald's Baltimore special says: "I am informed that some ten other Russian Naval officers are to come to this country, and with the assistance of two American gentlemen they are to designate about 50 fast ships to be purchased and fitted out as privateers in the event of a war with England. The crews will be drafted partly from men brought over by the Cimbria, and will be completed by men enlisted in this country. One of the officers has a list of owners of steamers for sale, in which the name of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. occurs.

Successful experiments with the telephone were conducted yesterday between this city and Sacramento, over a wire stretch of 200 miles The exhibition at this end took place at the rooms of the American District Telegraph Company on Sansome street. Conversation between the two points was very distinctly heard.—S. F. Call, 6th.

The House Committee on Education and Labor have agreed upon a bill authorizing the distribution to public libraries of one copy of every document published for public distribution by Congress.

The Canadians are getting somewhat excited over the expected war between England and Russia, fearing a Fenian raid, as it is natural that Russia should pat the Irish on the back and "sic 'em on" to their ancient enemy.

SELECT LIST OF

LOCAL NEWSPAPERS

Many persons suppose this list to be composed of CHEAP, low-priced newspapers. The fact is quite otherwise. The Catalogue states exactly what the papers are. When the issue of a paper is printed in FULL FACE TYPE it is its every day issue, the best paper in the place. When printed in CAPITALS it is the ONLY paper in the place. When printed in roman letters it is neither the best nor the only paper, but is usually a very good one, notwithstanding. The list gives the population of every town and the circulation of every paper. It IS NOT A CO-OPERATIVE LIST. IT IS NOT A CHEAP LIST. At the foot of the Catalogue are such items as the important towns which are not covered by the list are enumerated. IT IS AN HONEST LIST. The rates charged for advertising are exactly satisfactory to the publishers' estimate. The price for one inch four weeks in the entire list is $635. The regular rates of the papers for the same space and time are $2,153 25. The list includes 870 newspapers, of which 103 are issued DAILY and 837 WEEKLY. They are located in 325 different cities and towns, of which 32 are in the Capitals, 208 places of over 5,000 population, and 444 County seats. LISTS SENT ON APPLICATION. Address GEO. P. IT NOW LIES WITHIN THE reach of every hard-working Farmer, Miner, or Mechanic to obtain his necessities at their real value, and quit enriching the grabbing and unscrupulous storekeepers, who do not hesitate to take the last penny from a hard-working man, woman or child.

The Mechanics' Store

Whose reputation for straight-forwardness and square dealing is known far and wide, and needs no further comment. Employs an army of clerks for the sole purpose of filling country orders, and thousands living outside of Sacramento avail themselves of this chance; do all their buying by sending orders direct to the Mechanics' Store, and thereby avoid paying enormous prices to the merciless grabbers who infest every city and town on the coast.

The method upon which the Mechanics' Store is conducted is universally known; yet, for the benefit of some who may not know, we will here repeat them. They are as follows:

Every article in the house is bought at the lowest market rates, to which only a small profit is added. The price once fixed is marked in plain figures on every article and never deviated from, thus giving the poor judge of goods a chance to buy his wants as low as the most expert buyer.

NOTHING IS MISREPRESENTED,

NO FAULTS ARE CONCEALED.

All are treated alike—a person living 500 miles away, sending an order, obtain at the goods at precisely the same prices as customers who are present to select for themselves.

All goods are cheerfully exchanged, and in case where nothing suitable can be found the money is willingly refunded.

District Attorney Curtz protested against the passage of the $310 and $75 bills of R. M. & A. C. Folger on the ground that the Board had not made a legal contract for said printing.

Bill of M. Tebbs for $125, fees as attorney by appointment of the Court in the case of the People vs. McLaughlin, was unanimously rejected.

Bill of A. D. L. Payne, rejected at the last meeting, was again brought up and rejected.

The Board took a recess from 12 M to 2 P M, at which time the Board again convened.

A petition was received from Charles Schwartz, of Sacramento, for the payment of certain warrants on the General Fund, the same not having been presented in time for payment, owing to misrepresentations made by the late Treasurer. It was ordered that the Treasurer be authorized to pay said warrants, less the interest from date of first advertisement that said warrants were payable.

Report of Treasurer and Auditor read and ordered on file.

Report of C. B. Gregory, Road Overseer, received and ordered on file.

Resignation of J. W. Harvey, as Justice of the Peace, Township 4, was read and accepted.

It is ordered that the Clerk advertise for sealed proposals for publishing the delinquent tax list for the fiscal year 1878 79; also for supplying the county with all the blanks, books, stationery, and other supplies required by the several county officers and for the County Jail—said proposals to be filed with the Clerk on or before June 8th.

It is ordered that the Auditor draw a warrant for $250 in favor of Judge Griffith for counsel fees as assistant to District Attorney Curtz, and as an expert in the case of the People vs. Legget.

On petition R. E Montgomery was appointed Justice of the Peace for the Fourth Township.

It is ordered that the Sheriff be authorized to purchase a safe for the county at a cost not to exceed $500, to be paid out of the Contingent Fund.

In the matter of fixing the rates of toll on the several toll roads it is ordered that all applications for licenses on said roads will be heard on June 10th.

It is ordered that the road tax for Road District No. 5 be fixed at $2 or one day's work.

The Board adjourned till June 10th.

WORKINGMEN.—Some of our politicians are on the anxious seat in regard to the coming election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention. It is not known here what action, if any, will be taken by the Workingmen of El Dorado. If that new organization should make nominations, a goodly vote might be polled for it here, and somewhat disconcert the old party workers.

THE ADVANCE.—This Company yesterday commenced taking out good ore from the north drift, on a contract to furnish Carter & Adams' agents of the Frue Concentrators, 5000 tons of ore, to be worked at the Company's mill below Mt. Bullion, which is to be placed in running order as soon as possible, and furnished with Frue's concentrators.

THE DOUBLE STANDARD.—This Mill has this week been running on high grade ore. On Thursday a blast brought down ore which assays $1,000 a ton. We predict a brilliant future for this mine.

RAIN.—To day we are being favored with a light rain, but we fear it will not continue long enough to do much good. Rain is much needed by our Diamond Valley farmers.

PERSONAL.—Judge Wells and William Pierson, of Carson, accompanied by Sheriff Scott, made our town a flying visit yesterday. They came up to look after the Legget estate.

HOPE VALLEY.—We learn that the depth of snow in this valley ranges from eight inches to two feet. It is not likely that the dairymen will get on their ranges before the 1st of July.

POSTPONED.—The sale of the delinquent stock of the Utah Company has been postponed till May 20th.

NON-PARTISAN MASS CONVENTION.—On Monday last a joint meeting of the Republican and Democratic County Central Committees was held at Markleeville, and it was ordered that a Mass Convention of the voters of this county be held at Markleeville on Thursday next, 16th instant, for the purpose of nominating a Delegate to the Constitutional Convention. The Convention is to meet at 1 o'clock.

NO MAIL.—The stage last night brought no Western mail of Thursday—so we have no later advices from the other side of the mountains than Wednesday's dailies give us. A failure of mails on Friday is annoying.

The will of the late W. S. O'Brien, one of the bonanza kings, has been admitted to probate in San Francisco.—The estate is valued at $6,000,000. 3. New and Improved Forms for making the various proofs, from the location of a claim, miner's lien, notice to delinquents co-owners, &c., down to issuance of patent.

4. A Complete List of Patented Mining Claims, arranged by State, Territory, County, and District. This list is worth to mining men many times the price of the book

The book contains nearly 200 pages 4½ by 6 inches, and is designed to be a pocket companion for every wide-awake man in the mining camps and financial centers of the West. The work is for sale at the

THE CHRONICLE.

SATURDAY, MAY 11, 1878.

In Cannes, France, at a boot-maker's shop, the English tourist may find the following inscription, in his own language: "Repairs hung with stage-coach." After long and anxious thought he may arrive at the cobbler's meaning, who only wished to inform his patrons that "repairs are executed with diligence."

A man was recently discovered standing upright on a New York sidewalk sound asleep. Nature evidently cut him out for a policeman.

Hannibal Hamlin says the colored people of the South are getting on better than the laboring class at the North.

Almost anybody can send a boy on an errand, but only the wealthy have leisure to spare to wait for him to get back.—Rome Sentinel.

It is easier for a man to get his chin shaved without bleeding, than his note.
